Teamwork at the RIO Olympics

As the Olympics drew to a close over the weekend, it was wonderful to observe teams from around the world celebrating their achievements, whether it was bringing home a haul of medals, or celebrating the very first ever Gold medal won by a country, such as the Fijian rugby team! The celebration as a team stood out most significantly and this teamwork should be applauded when displayed by our children also. The ability to work together is not just a skill we are taught at school. It is a vital skill used in all areas of life.

Teamwork requires people to work cooperatively with others towards a shared purpose. For a team to work together effectively, it takes all members of the team to respect each other’s abilities and opinions.

In school your child will experience teamwork in many different forms. Children may be asked to work in pairs, small groups, or larger groups on a variety of different things. They may be asked to work in teams for physical activities such as ball games or running games or more formal activities such as projects. Children also often form their own team activities during their play time.

While your child will experience plenty of team-based activities at school, it is important to continue the ethos of good teamwork at home.

- It can feel great to be part of a team, but if a child is excluded from a team it can be an upsetting experience. Make sure your child understands this and does not exclude others.
- Teamwork can often inspire competitiveness with other teams – especially in physical activities. Encourage your child to be a good sportsman and a team-player.
- Get children to work together on a project at home – it could be anything from a collective art project to performing a play. Encourage every child to decide on a role in the team.
- Board games can inspire teamwork. Whether your child is teamed up with friends, siblings, parents, or grandparents, it can be a fun time for young and old to play together. Make sure no one gets too competitive though!

Dear Jesus, Thank you for creating me to be a part of a team. Thank you for giving me team mates in my parents, siblings teachers and friends. I pray that You will help me work together with others to do all You have for us to do. Amen.

RE-INVENT SHED

The custodians of the Re-Invent shed is looking for donations of interesting bits and pieces to add to our collection to be used by the students across the school. The Re-Invent shed is a great resource for staff and students when building, making, designing, modelling and playing and fits both the idea of sustainability and play at Sacred Heart.

We are after:

- PVC, plastic, reticulation, vacuum pipes
- carpet squares
- ice cream containers
- clean polystyrene meat trays
- small wood scraps
- cardboard tubes

If you have anything of interest to donate, please send it in to your child’s classroom and it will be passed on. We are hoping to have the shed fully stocked and ready for some new and interesting projects to start during L.E.G week in Week 8.

Child Protection Week
Safeguarding Protective Behaviours Parent Workshops
One way in which parents can assist in increasing their child’s safety is by teaching them the protective behaviours program and as such we strongly recommend all parents attend one of the workshops. These workshops have been designed to teach parents and carers how to increase the personal safety of their children. Whilst there are many ways of talking to children about their personal safety, it is important that we do not scare them or leave them feeling unsafe, afraid or disempowered. Protective Behaviours provides children with strategies to keep themselves safe and cope with situations that threaten their well being and personal safety. The program empowers the individual with the right to feel safe and sets out ways in which they can gain the appropriate help when they are not feeling safe.

The Perth Catholic Archdiocese Safeguarding Project is child focused and informed by a fundamental belief that children have the right to physical and psychological safety at all times.
There are a number of venues around Perth holding these sessions, so please check the school office for times and dates and to get a registration form if interested.
RSVP Thursday 1 September 2016
This workshop is being provided complimentary free of charge
